

NORTHERN CONFERENCE for WILDFIRE RESILIENCE

- Evening Community Session -

With generous local sponsorship, this working conference will launch a northern initiative to help participants strengthen partnerships, shift fuels and forest practices, understand the role of policy, and move to a new planning paradigm that considers our current state, the role of fire, and future wildfire resilience.

Advancing Resilience in the Nadina Forest District:

As part of the conference, the BV Research Centre is hosting a free community evening session that will include a panel discussion and moderated Q & A session. This offers an opportunity for the community to learn more about the proceedings of the conference as well as what can be done to improve community and forest resilience.
